The Labocool fridges from Labotec have an operating range from +1°C to +8°C. They are manufactured in accordance with ISO 9001 (Quality management systems certified) and ISO 14001 (Environmental Management system compliant) and come with a two year warranty for added peace of mind.

The range is ideally suited for general storage and typically can be used for reagents and kits, whole blood chromatography apparatus, test samples, biological and culture media and more. The glass door is double tempered for safety, and the magnetic door gasket promotes stable temperature within the cabinet.
